As an integral part of early American Punk folklore, it is not surprising to find references to M.D.C. in the annals of punk history and beyond the boundaries of mainstream music culture--their honorable mention in the alternative duo THEY MIGHT BE GIANTS song "Rhythm Section Want Ad" and the Millions of Dead Cops album ranking #7 on Kurt Cobain's all-time favorite list are two interesting examples.

M.D.C. forged strong friendships and allies through their years of touring such as THE DEAD KENNEDY'S, BAD BRAINS, Ian McKay of MINOR THREAT, Tim Armstrong and Matt Freeman of RANCID, GREEN DAY, and Dave Grohl. M.D.C. is active in a number of good causes.
